The RUNAWAY DOLL (in glass slippers) - A Life Stella Patchouli

(This book, my Memoir, is written the way I speak English, which I learned from listening to rock 'n' roll music and watching Hollywood classic movies.!).

Intro:

"Born in Iran, Stella Patchouli, an aristocrat's daughter, spends her childhood exiled in Switzerland. At age 13, she runs away on a midnight train to Munich, carrying her good luck charm: an Elvis Presley album. She survives her teenage years as a nude dancer and a celebrated star in France. In August 1975, she meets her idol in Las Vegas. Her date with destiny takes her to Memphis Tennessee where she witnesses the last months of Elvis' life and his slow, agonizing, so-called "tragic death". In this autobiography, the conspiracy to keep The King forever young is explained - a plan so well mapped out that those who did it will never be held liable for the perfect Rock 'n' Roll Hit..

Without a land to call her own, always depending on work permit to stay and work in Europe, and ultimately in the US of A, her journey is also a glimpse into various cultures and pop cultures.

As an Iranian-born woman living in the nude and being ousted by her entire family, living in constant state of a destination unknown, she turns shame into pride of a liberated woman, western style!

It's been a long and winding road, and if she had to do it all over again, she wouldn't change a 'thang', she says!"
