Not illustrated. 1906 Excerpt: ... island was seized and sent prisoners to the tender. From this island lie sails again to Sunday. The bailie told him that he could not convene the people, for they had taken the alarm and fled either to the rocks or to the sea in small boats, but if he inclined to examine any particular person, he should endeavour to bring him to him. The captain condescended on a tenant of me, the said John Traill, who was accordingly brought, and being interrogate concerning his master's conduct during the rebellion, and having received the same answer as when the same question was put to the tenant formerly mentioned, he was thereupon in great rage, and not only refused to put down his answers in writing, but immediately plundered and burnt my house of Elsness without allowing my friends to carry away my papers or other valuable effects therein. The island of Stronsay; but the people there having taken alarm, he went to Kirkwall with his plunder and prisoners. On the 30th June the plunder of the burnt houses was sold by public roup in Kirkwall; and seven or eight of Mr Moodie's tenants, whom he had brought from the farthest end of the country to assist at the devastation, drew their shares of the spoil. In the year 1746, Mrs Balfour, elder of Trenaby, thinking she, a poor oppressed widow, against whom no crime was ever alleged, had a good title to the protection of the magistrate, joined by several of her tenants, presented a petition and remonstrance to Mr Ross, setting forth the violence already committed against them and what they had still to fear; that their servants and cottars had been forced away, and were still detained prisoners; their cattle driven to barren mountains, and their goods hid and buried in caves and pits, to their vast loss and prejudice, and nei...
